It is expected that at least 20 of these units will be ready for occupancy by September--all 101 units should be ready by summer 1970.

Size of dwellings will range from one to five bedrooms. Those having one to three bedrooms will be in two-family duplexes. All with four or five bedrooms will be free standing single family homes.

After the developer is accepted by the local housing authority and the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the local housing authority enters into a contract of sale, whereby it agrees to purchase the homes from the developers, when they are completed. The contract is backed up by a financial assistance commitment of the United States Government.

The developer then proceeds to build the houses, assured that they will be bought by the local housing authority. The developer assumes all the responsibilities of getting the construction done, he gets the land, hires the carpenters, plumber, etc., all in conformance with local codes and regulations.

WHEN PURCHASED by the Township these houses will be rented to eligible families, handicapped individuals; and single persons 62 years of age or older. A definition of a family is two persons related by blood, marriage or operation of law, (adoptions, guardians).

Eligibility of tenents is determined by their income according to Federal guidelines. Amount of rent to be paid will be based on the income of the family members, after certain adjustments are made.

State Police Probe Murder of Couple

ROMULUS--State Police detectives from the Ypsilanti Post are searching for clues in the murder investigation of a Negro man and woman discovered in a concrete culvert in Romulus Township.

An autopsy was scheduled for Tuesday at the Wayne County Medical Examiner's office, Detroit, to determine the actual cause of death, Dr. Kenneth Taylor of the State Police, reported.

Although police report an unofficial identification on one of the bodies, further investigative work is required.

* * *

THE BADLY decomposed bodies were discovered by John Slage, of 7261 Kenwood, Inkster, at about 3:45 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 3 in a field near Kenwood Street, between Middlebelt and Merriman Roads, south of Ecorse Road.

The murder scene is about a mile north of Metropolitan Airport.

Slage was showing a friend the spot where an airplane with three passengers aboard had crashed in June when he found the bodies.

Police reported a gaping wound was found in the male and that the partially clothed bodies which were floating in a foot of water had no identification on them.

Officers also reported that the bodies had been placed in the culvert which runs under Charles Road and had been there for several days, perhaps a week.

* * *

AREA RESIDENTS have requested Romulus Township officials for more street lighting in the area where the bodies were located.

They were told to file petitions with 60 percent of the area residents approving request for adequate lighting and return with the petitions to the Township.

Township administration will then officially notify the Detroit Edison Company.

The Gambinos, who have reared five children and have seen them all earn their college degrees, are now doing considerable traveling. This was their second trip abroad. Gambino is president-elect of the Southgate Kiwanis Club.

President Alfred J. Perry presided at Thursday night's dinner meeting and conducted the necessary club business. Program chairman was Jim McCall. Miss Carla Hay, daughter of Kiwanian Frederick W. Hay, furnished dinner music at the piano.

The Romulus Kiwanians plan to hold their Aug. 14 meeting at the 4-H Fairgrounds, Belleville, during the week of the Wayne County 4-H Fair.

Members are asked to volunteer their services at some time during fair week.

OFFICIALS TELL WHY

Youth Will Become Part Of UF Annual Campaign

A young people's plot to take over the 1969 Torch Drive hass been unveiled.

No office sit-ins or protest demonstrations will be necessary, for the United Foundation is inviting them in.

UF officials announced the addition of a Youth Day program to the fall Torch Drive activities.

Along the lines of Boys and Girls State, 25 high school students from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties will be chosen to form a campaign leadership organization for the Torch Drive.

* * *

THE FUND—RAISING effort, which netted more than $29 million last year, helps finance nearly 200 services in the tri- country area.

One of the youths will be designated general campaign chairman, as a counterpart of William S. Blakeslee, a Chrysler Corp. vice president and group executive of defense-space.

Other students will hold positions dealing with advance gifts, residential solicitation, audit, corporate leadership, labor, business and profesisonal solicitation, and promotion.

We're hoping we've found a way to involve young people in the Torch Drive and to give them a share in this community responsibility," said Jacques Cousin, UF executive vice president.

* * *

"THESE STUDENTS weren't even born when the UF was founded 20 years ago. It's easy for them to take us for granted. But we want them to know what we are, for they are the people who will be running the Torch Drive 20, 30 and 40 years from now."

The Detroit Public Schools and the Archdiocese of Detroit are cooperating with the Youth Day program. The students will be chosen by public and parochial school principals on the basis of leadership and civic responsiblity.

James E. Glynn, public relations director of the National Bank of Detroit, is chairman of the Youth Day activity.

Working with him are Sister Shirley, consultant for the social studies department of the archdiocesan schools, and Lewis I. Jeffries, junior administrative assistant of the Detroit schools.

* * *

AS GLYNN outlined the plans, in early October the chosen students will attend a luncheon meeting with their campaign counterparts and get a chance to question them about the Torch Drive. On the same day, they'll tour representative agencies.

Then, on Oct. 29, the regular Torch Drive report luncheon will be designated Youth Day. The students will run the show, giving the campaign reports for the day.

Youth Day is expected to become a campaign regular, along with Ladies Day, Labor Day and Sports Day.

* * *

FOR UF OFFICIALS, the problem of how to involve young people in the campaign is a long-time concern. Torch Drive leaders want to avoid high-pressure student fund drives, since parents are also asked for contributions.

"Yet," said executive vice president Cousin, "we want to tell our story to this next generation, get their reactions to us and make them feel a part of what's going on. After all, what we do now is more for them than for their parents. It will help determine the kind of community in which they'll be living."

4-H HORSE JUDGING TEAM--The 1969 Wayne County 4-H Horse Judging Team, members which will be in competition with other 4-H members at the Annual 4-H Fair held in Belleville whereby a new team, plus two alternates will be chosen for 1970. eligibility for Korean conflict veterans, the second the start of eligibility for Vietnam veterans.

The second of the three bills clarifies eligibility for county burial benefits for veterans, their wives and widows with limited estates. Under the present law, Mahalak points out, there is some confusion about eligibility for these benefits. "This new law will clarify this so that if any veteran, his wife or widow is eligible, they will not be denied it because of confusion in the statutes," Mahalak said.

The third bill makes it possible for someone other than a World War I veteran to serve on the country soldiers' relief commissions. The old law specified that one of the appointees be a World War I veteran. However, Mahalak, explains, because the advanced age of World War I veterans many counties are having trouble finding one who is willing or able to serve on the commission.

Under the new law a veteran of another war could be appointed if no World War I veteran was available.

Don't Blame Racism For School Woes

We do not support the attempt on the part of a group of Inkster Public School residents to transfer their neighborhood to the Cherry Hill School District. But, on the other hand, we do not agree with the statements of Dr. Edward B. Fort, superintendent of the Inkster Schools, that racism is the main issue.

When someone talks about racism, we think of Ku Klux Klan members lynching Negroes. We think of Police dogs in Birmingham, Ala., and fire hoses. These are the ugly pictures that the word "racism" brings to mind.

What we have in this transfer attempt is not that racism. It is a group of mothers and fathers who want a better education for their children. On second thought, let's say an adequate education, because that is what children in the Inkster School District are not getting by any means.

There is nothing racist about noting that the education one gets in the Inkster Schools is poor. When a teacher has inadequate equipment, few books, and jacked-up class size, he cannot do as well as he could under better circumstances. The Homeowners for Better Education claim that teachers in the Inkster Schools are poorly-qualified. Frankly it's a wonder that the Inkster teachers do as well as they do.

There is nothing racist about parents who object to their children trudging to school in the snow and rain. Everyone will admit that walking along Middlebelt or Henry Ruff in the winter is not a particularly safe nor pleasant thing to do. Neither is it racist to note the lack of special services or extra-curricular activities in the Inkster Schools.

Now what is racist and unfair about the situation is the fact that the Inkster Public Schools have come to be in this condition. The method of financing education in this state is unfair, it serves to keep poor poeple, including Negroes, poor.

Houses in the City of Dearborn are hard to buy because taxes are low. The Ford Motor Company owns a lot of land in Dearborn and its tax money finances excellent city services and an excellent school system.

But someone who is poor may find it difficult to move into Dearborn; and someone who is black will find it impossible. The same thing is true of Grosse Pointe, Southfield, and a dozen other fine school systems we could name.

People who cannot afford to live in these communities move instead to places like Inkster where the cost of housing is not as high, but the taxes are higher. Or, in the case of Negroes they move to a place where they can expect to be treated like human beings.

From these inequitable tax bases, the people of various school districts are expected to educate their children. But the clincher is that 30 mills will not get you the same education in Inkster that it will in another community with a greater tax base. As a matter of fact, the bedroom communities of Wayne, Westland, Dearborn Heights and Inkster are all pretty much in the same boat.

Therefore, the problem in Inkster is not racism as much as it is money. In that light, Dr.Fort's remarks are not to the point and highly inflammatory.

What an educated man like Dr.Fort probably means when he refers to racism is not the same thing that the members of the Homeowners for Better Education understand him to mean. He is probably referring to a complex set of social factors. But, to these parents, using the expression racism is like waving a red flag. It's just too easy to say that racism is at the root of all of Inkster's problems.

What's more, the Inkster Public Schools are not going to get anywhere in their battle for better education until the time when black people and white people --including students, teachers, administrators and residents--stop using meaningless labels and start concentrating on the things that unite them, not the things that divide them.

Harmony Needed In Westland

Anyone who thinks a City Council should be nothing more than an "advisory body" has a Dearborn complex.

The strongarm governmental approach taken by Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard may be fine if you're on his side and live in Dearborn, but is isn't so fine if you're opposed to a Hubbard policy.

In Westland, this year, a longstanding clash between the Mayor and members of the City Council is about to be decided. Some would transplant the Dearborn approach in Westland.

The idea seems to be that putting all the power in one place is better than working together. We don't buy that theory, not at all.

A certain amount of give and take in City government is expected. Disagreement breeds discussion, and discussion leads to the airing of ideas and the discovery of new ways to do things. But a City must have officials who can find it within them to accept a situation and work together for its solution.

There can't be distrust and personal animosity. Unfortunately, such attitudes exist today in Westland.

There must be leadership, but not with an iron fist. Intelligence and good planning and presentation by men in leadership will bring the supporters into line. You can convince a man to believe an idea, but you can't beat him into believing anything.

We don't need an all-powerful Mayor or an all-powerful City Council. We need a Mayor and a Council that can work out mutual problems in an atmosphere of concern for the community---leaving personal problems aside.

We hope Westland will come out of the current Mayoral contest with that kind of government. One that runs smoothly, not one that is kicked into submission.

'If It Fits..!'

Cat Lovers, Don't Read This

By Jim Fitzgerald

Let's start this sad story with a question: Am I the only hard-hearted Scrooge who hates to have a cat jump on his face, especially when he's sleeping which is often because I'm mighty tired of the way things have been going around my house?

Several years ago I wrote that cats were stupid animals, with about as much real usefulness as the Prince of Wales. This was after some dumb broad asked Ann Landers if it would be ok if her cat were her bridesmaid (Ann said yes, if the wedding were held in a kennel which it probably was. The world knows no foolishness to match that which fills pet cemeteries with weeping and flowers every Memorial Day.)

Anyway, I also wrote with glee about my childhood when I used to drop cats off roofs. This was not cruelty, it was scientific research. I dropped them 10 times each to test the nine-lives theory. Actually, I hurt a cat, a fact due less to my humanity than to the neighborhood architecture. Ours was a ranch-style block and a full-grown cat could jump over the highest roof.

Please note, dear cat-lovers, that I wrote these terrible things many years ago when I was young and brave and single. And I was immediately attacked by hordes of Little Old Ladies. They collected cat hairs from their furniture and braided them into a cross which they burned in my front yard. Ever since, I have been very respectful of cats and their owners. I even observe National Cat Week, drinking my booze from a saucer. I pray that nothing written here today will be misunderstood. I want no more trouble with old ladies, especially relatives. Cats are fine.

Except the stupid things keep jumping in my face.

Steady readers (Mother and Aunt Madeline) are probably wondering how a cat ever came to live in our house. Well, in the first place, it's not a cat. It's two cats. Honest. In a weak moment, I promised the two youngest kids a pet to make up for the loss of our expected child. I decided a cat would be less trouble than a dog. And my brilliant wife decided the two kids might fight over ownership of one cat, so let's get one for each of them. (This worked great. Now Eddie wallops Chrissie "because your cat scratched my cat").

So now the house smells like a barnyard. So now the new furniture might as well be old furniture because it's covered with blankets so the cats can't tear it up. So now I have to look carefully before I sit or step.

And now, worst of all, I must argue with my wife over whether it is cute for two cats to leap into the face of a hard-working breadwinner who likes to snooze while watching TV.

"It means they love you," she says.

"I'll kill them both," I says.

"Daddy's a dirty rat," Eddie says.

"If you hurt those cats I'll tell the police," Chrissie says.

Boy, If a man's home is his castle, this king has been overthrown and there are cats littering on my thorne.

There was a big discussion about what to call the cats. The kids wanted something clever, such as To and Fro or Huff and Puff. I suggested Dumb and Dumber. There was finally a democratic vote, while I was at work, and the cats were named Molly and Polly.

But I call them Onward and Upward. Through my tears.

State Police To Help

By Dick McKnight

Fortunately, the investigation of seven murders of young women in the Ann Arbor Ypsilanti area is about to take on a new complexion.

Of course, no one knows if the entrance of the State Police, and the possible assistance of the FBI, will actually result in the apprehension of the killer or killers, but this particular newspaperman thinks the investigation is bound to take on a far more professional air.

The stories that have been coming out of Ann Arbor, fairly or unfairly, continually tell of the apparent inability of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, the Ann Arbor Police, and the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's Office to work together.

The result has been to make a high-level police investigation look like rank folly. The appearances have given law enforcement officers, and particularly investigative officers, a black eye for everyone to see.

The black eye may be deserved in Washtenaw County, but it is not deserved elsewhere, nor is the entrance Col. Frederick Davids of the State Police likely to result in a continuation of pettiness.

This writer could not be more impressed with the ability shown by local officers in working with other police departments. While Westland is most familiar, contacts with other departments have been equally satisfactory.

Two particular episodes come to mind: The case of Anthony J. Volante, and any number of drug abuse cases being investigated in our area.

In the Volante case, Westland police detectives worked with officers from several other departments on an investigation that eventually resulted in the conviction of one of two men suspected of the Volante kidnap-murder. The investigation progressed without massive fanfare, but incredible amounts of time were spent on the Volante case, before and after the grocer's body was discovered.

All during this time, while there were probably some pressures on the officers, there wasn't a hint of conflict, and certainly no glory-seeking, in the actions of Westland officers.

The drug abuse cases being investigated locally know no municipal boundaries. Officers from surrounding communities have been working together for months, often participating together when a raid is to be staged, or undercover work is to be done. It has been as simple as this simple statement: Crime does not respect City boundaries, so law enforcement can't either.

This writer believes, from observation of other departments, that lack of cooperation and confusion like that observed in Washtenaw County is inexcusable.

Sheriff Douglas Harvey reportedly commented that if a recent mannequin ploy to trap the killer had worked, his men would have been heroes. Bluntly, area residents could care less about whether Sheriff Harvey and his men are heroes, but they do care whether they are professional, and whether they catch the killer.

Col. Frederick Davids, who will head the investigation from now on, is well respected among Michigan law enforcement officers. Davids came up through the ranks, has done investigation work, and inspires confidence.

There certainly is no easy answer to the poor publicity the investigation of these murders has received. The investigation, despite the efforts of many officers, has only recently been fruitful. Nerves are bound to be a little frayed, and the public temper a little short becuase there has been slow progress in finding the killer.

Perhaps Public confidence in the officers investigating the crimes will be bettered by the entrance of the State Police into the probe. One of the reasons why the investigation may draw less attention is because the State Police are not likely to talk as freely about their successes and failures as are other law enforcement agencies.

Reflections

Kids--Never a Dull Moment

By Joyce Hagelthorn

One of the most frequent things readers I meet for the first time say to me is,

"I don't believe kids like yours!"

Naturally I tell them I don't believe kids like mine, either, and that's my hang-up.

Just yesterday a little wisp of a woman said, "I couldn't stand it if I had kids like yours."

What I didn't tell her was that if she had kids, they were probably just like mine. The only difference being their mothers. My kids' mother gets paid for telling how funny her kids are. And there's nothing like a few copper pieces to make things real funny.

Actually, the reason my kids' mother wrote down their antics in the very beginning was to keep from blowing her mind.

I strongly recommend the typewriter to any mother of more than one unborn kid. Before that, she can use a pencil.

I remember when we first started being parents seriously. This was after our boys discovered they had vocal chords and feet that went together.

We soon recognized the need for developing some kind of a philosophy. . .a philosophy that would sustain us, and help us in our moments of stress. And keep the kids from getting their skulls rammed in.

One warm, summer day Papa-Bear came home tired, and, as he walked through the house, draped his coat on the doorknob and his tie over the widow sill. He happened to glance out. . . and there, right smack in the center of his backyard, stood one droopy, six-foot tall, sunflower.

"Where the hell did that come from?" he shouted.

One kid who was busy unscrewing the little knobs that held the table together, looked up and said earnestly,

"Gee, daddy, I didn't steal it. Somebody threw it in the alley. . .somebody sure is dumb to throw away a neat flower like that."

His papa leaned against the window and his face wasn't sure whether it was going to pucker into a laugh or pucker into a cry.

And then he said, "I have a feeling if one can remember to keep his sense of humor, one might live through this parent bit."

As the last word filtered out from between his teeth, a table leg fell off and his little kid said,

"Gee, dad, look at these neat screws I found for my go-cart."

The face of Papa puckered up into a laugh, but there were tears in his eyes, and his hand was twitching.

Congressman Ford Hails Hike in Education Funds

Congressman William D. Ford (D) of Michigan's 15th District hailed the House of Representatives action Thursday in adding an estimated $1 billion to President Nixon's proposed education budget.

Congressman Ford, a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, was among a group of Democratic liberals who led a heated debate on the House floor for approval of the budget increase.

A package amendment to an education appropriation bill was approved by a vote of 293 to 120, in one of the major surprises of the current Congressional session. It is exceedlingly rare for Congress to increase budget figures recommended by its appropriations committee.

* * *

FORD GAVE major credit for the victory to a lobbying group-the Emergency Committee for Full Funding of Education Programs-a coalition of educational organizations formed earlier this year to lobby for higher education appropriations.

The Emergency Committee gathered statistics and figures, prepared arguments, and brought more than 300 educational leaders from throughout the nation to Washington to present their case to members of Congress.

Ford noted that President Nixon originally requested an education budget of $3.2 billion, some $400,000,000 less than was appropriated last year. The House Appropriations Committee added $123,600,000 to this figure before the budget request was sent to the House floor.

Even this higher figure was not satisfactory to Congressman Ford and other liberal members of the Education and Labor Committee, who argued that increased costs and increased enrollments would require far higher amounts to maintain existing programs at adequate levels.

The package amendment, drafted by the liberals and introduced by Congressman Charles Joelson of New Jersey, adds $398,000,000 for aid to impacted districts (those with large influxes of students due to military posts or other Federal installations), $180,800;000 for districts with heavy concentrations of poverty-level students, $131,500,000 for vocational education, $40,794,000 for student loans under the National Defense Education Act, $33,000,000 for construction of colleges and universities, and $110,453,000 for sschool libraries, equipment, guidance and counseling services, and supplementary centers.

AFTER APPROVAL of the package increase, the House went on to add another $15,500,000 for educating handicapped children, and $9,200,000 for public library construction.

Congressman Ford, in House debate which preceded approval of the package amendment, charged Congress with playing a "shameful hoax" on American taxpayers by not enacting appropriations to equal authorized funding.

"Mr. Chairman," Ford declared, "the events of recent weeks, the adventure of Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, have proved that the old adage, 'the sky is the limit,' is a false cliche.

"We can, as a nation, do almost anything we want to - if we want to badly enough. We have opened vistas for the next generation that challenge the imagination - and also challenge us as the custodians of the public purse to properly husband our resources so that the promise of the future can be achieved."

FORD TOLD his colleagues: "We cannot, in good conscience, make promises on one hand, and on the other hand, shortchange and cut back on education.

"The people of my district - educators, school board members, college officials, and most of all, parents - support increased funds for education. These are responsible, intelligent people who are aware of the dangers of inflation which concern us all. But they believe, as I do, that the children and youth of this country cannot be sacrificed on the altar of false economy.

"Let us use a small portion of the amount we spend in defense and other hardware budgets to provide for an investment in the most essential factor in the formula for a bright future for our nation - the minds of our children and youth."

The appropriations bill, as amended by the House, now goes to the Senate for action. It must be approved by both of Congress before being sent to President Nixon for final approval.

Carrico-McNutt Vows Read At St. Mary's

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin M. Carrico are expected home this week from a belated honeymoon. She's the former Carol E. McNutt, of Inkster.

Carol and Kevin were united in marriage at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Wayne. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Raymond J. Sayers before an altar adorned with bouquets of white glads. The soloist was Mrs. Roberta Evon, of Inkster, cousin of the bride's late father.

Carol is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy M. McNutt, of 7305 Middlebelt, and the late Woodbury McNutt. The bride groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carrico, of 15451 Huron River Drive, Romulus.

LAYERS OF WIDE chantilly lace formed the full skirt of the bridal gown and cascaded into a pointed chapel train. Fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and traditional long pointed sleeves, there was a lace panel at the front of the skirt with pearls and sequins accenting the neckline.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert J. McNutt of Taylor, Carol wore a double-tiered veil of white nylon illusion in elbow length. Her crown was of net petals studded with iridescents and pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded with pink baby tea roses and stephanotis.

MR. AND MRS. KEVIN M. CARRICO

Assisting as maid-of-honor was Patsy Kidwell, of Romulus. Marcella McNutt, of Taylor, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. The two wore gowns of pink chiffon over satin, trimmed with daisies and fashioned with fitted bodices, short sleeves and scooped necklines. They also wore matching pink crowns with veils, white wrist length gloves, and matching shoes, and carried baskets of pink tinted daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gloria Jean Prill, of Belleville, aunt of the bride; Deborah Traskos, of Belleville, cousin; Mrs. Kathleen Eaton, of Romulus, sister of the bridegroom; and Gloria Jean Traskos, of Belleville, another cousin. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant's but in orchid. Their accessories were the same but the flowers they carried were in orchid.

A five-year-old niece of the bridegroom, Mary Beth Eaton of Romulus, served as flower girl. She was dressed identically to the bridesmaids but carried a topiary made from chrysanthemums. Three-year-old Michael Alan McNutt, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

The bridegroom's attendants included Terry Carrico of Romulus, his brother, as best man; Gary McNutt, of Inkster, cousin of the bride; Robert J. McNutt, of Taylor, the bride's brother; James St. Antoine, of Garden City; Roger Eaton, of Romulus, a brother-in-law; and Ray Horn, of Romulus.

MRS. McNUTT attended her daughter's wedding wearing a floor-length, sleeveless aqua chiffon gown with beaded neckline, and silver accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor-length mint green crepe dress. Mrs. McNutt had a corsage of pink baby tea roses and Mrs. Carrico's were in yellow.

Also honored with a pink carnation corsage was Mrs. Edna McNutt, grandmother of the bride, who appeared in a formal gown of blue brocade with matching accessories. Similarly honored was the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J.P. Carrico, who wore a navy dress. His grandfather was unable to attend.

Louis Carrico, father of the bridegroom, was also unable unable to attend his son's wedding due to being in the hospital so the wedding party visited him there after the ceremony.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held at the Moose Hall, Taylor, with about 400 guests attending. Buffet supper and dancing were enjoyed.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Romulus High and attended Eastern Michigan University for a year. She has been employed as a proof operator at Manufacturer's Bank, Joy and Stalin Roads. The bridegroom graduated from Romulus High the same year and was employed at Hydra-Matic, Willow Run, before entering the U.S. Army in March. He is now stationed at Ft. Polk, Louisiana after eight weeks basic combat training at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

MRS. RANDEL W. CLARK

Sharon Scheffler Is First Of August Brides In Area

The Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, was the setting August 2 for the evening ceremony which united Sharon Ann Scheffler of Belleville, and Randel Wesley Clark, of Detroit, in holy matrimony.

Two large vases of white glads, mums, and daisies graced the candlelighted altar while white carnations and bows served as bridal accents on the pews.

Donna Coggins at the organ accompanied the Rev. William Graham as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The Rev. Kinniman Crawford read the double ring nuptials which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Scheffler, of 811 Savage road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Clark, of 17388 Wakenden, Detroit.

* * *

WALKING UP the aisle with her father, Sharon appeared in a Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and wristpoint sleeves on the fitted bodice. Seed pearling frosted the bodice and bouffant skirt which drifted in tiers to a V-shaped train.

Her pouf veil of silk illusion fell in four tiers to mid-back length from a lace petaled headpiece studded with crystals and pearls. Her cascade bouquet was comprised of white carnations and six long-stemmed white sweetheart roses interspersed with trailing ivy and lace.

Rainbow hues were chosen for the dresses of the attendants. Sandy Suliman, of Belleville, who was maid of honor, wore peacock taffeta over crepe. A high stand-up satin collar, long sleeves, and sheath skirt were styling details on the frock which had a floor-length satin train attached at the neckline to add back interest.

Kathy Conat, of Southgate, appeared in an identical yellow gown; Jeanne Domen, Gayle Walls, Mrs. William Kawlouski, the bridegroom's sister; and Mrs. William Liedel, all of Belleville, donned frocks of rose, blue, lilac, and Nile green, respectively; while Carol Clark, the bridegroom's sister, was in pink.

Their headpieces, in colors to match their gowns, were lace petals accented with pearls and crystals edged with brief veils.

Their colonial bouquets were fashioned of white daisy pomps and mums to match their gowns.

MIKE PERVENKLER, of Detroit, was asked to be best man. The corps of ushers included John Underdonk, and Matt Hogan, both of Ann Arbor; Don Suttles, of Ypsilanti; Bill Liedel, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, from Belleville; David Clark, his brother; and George Scheffler, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Scheffler chose for her daughter's wedding a pale blue, jeweled necked, A-line creation with shoes and handbag to match. Blue lace in the A-line mode was worn by Mrs. Clark, the bridegroom's mother. Both added corsages of miniature white carnations with blue and white lace bows.

The Masonic Temple was reserved for the reception which followed with 225 guests attending. The newlyweds then departed for a week-long honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania. On their return they will make their home at 5683 N. Christine Blvd., Westland.

A 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Clark is employed at Hydra-matic at Willow Run. Her husband graduate from Redford Union High School this year and is currently serving with the U.S. Army Reserve. He is an employee of Accra-Gage Lapping Company, Detroit.

Gathering of the clan

CONSIDERING ALL the rain we've had lately, the Greca clan was very fortunte to pick a Sunday for its reunion when the weather was ideal for a family get-together. The gathering — number 43 — included 150 persons from this area as well as Pinconning, Newberry, St. Helen, Lansing, Trenton, and Plymouth.

The UAW Local 735 Park, near Belleville, was the setting for the August 3 meeting which began with a o-operative dinner and continued on to games and contests for all age groups.

Mrs. Rose Greca at 78 was the eldest sttending and two weeks old Andrew Jess Sutton, son of Jess and Judy (Jaworski) Sutton, of Lansing, was the youngest.

Among the statistics recorded were nine other births during the year: Kevin Thomas to the Larry Grecas of Ypsilanti; Jeffery Michael to the John Grecas, of Romulus; Keith Edward to the Phil Grecas stationed with the U.S. Air Force in Germany; Brian Scott to the Carleton Cooks, of Saginaw; Jeffery Paul to the Dennis Jaworskis, of Monroe; Mary Kaye to the Bob Grecas, of Ypsilanti; Matthew William to the Val Grecas, of Romulus; and twins — Kenneth and Kristin — to the Kenneth Pawlowskis, of Clawson.

The passing of two members – Meitz Stanley Greca, of Maybee, and Mrs. Mary Chapp, of New Boston, — were also listed.

The group also remembered in prayer two of their members missing because of illness, Theresa Fabiesezewski and Martha Cook.

How it all began --

EVERY SO often you hear of a particularly romantic episode in someone's life which bears mentioning. Such is the case with Irv and Vivian Wallace who today (Wednesday) are returning from a very special trip to Chicago.

Yesterday, August 5, was their silver wedding anniversary and in honor of the occasion, Irv planned a little surprise for his wife of 25 years. Saturday evening while attending a first anniversary party for their daughter and son-in-law, Linda and Don Ritzenhein, given by his mother, Mrs. Barbara Ritzenhein, and his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian McKechnie, Irv presented Vivian with a gift of her own — a box which contained two round-trip tickets to the Windy City where 'it' all began.

Back during the War years (when Irv and Viv were both serving with the U.S. Navy at the Great Lakes Naval Center) they met and had their first date at the Black Hawk Restaurant. And that's precisely where the two dined and reminisced last night after winging their way to Chicago and filling their reservations at the Palmer House Towers.

Besides daughter Linda, there are three other girls who share the Wallace home at 14225 Elwell road, Belleville — Kay, Jacque, and Jill.

MERIBETH MATULIS WEDS

Daughter Of Former BHS Principal Is Married

A former Belleville girl, Meribeth Anne Matulis, became the bride of Winifer Watson Freeman, Jr. August 2 at the First Presbyterian Church, Dearborn. Dr. John King presided at the three thirty o'clock ceremony which united the daughter of former Belleville High School Principal and Mrs. Anthony S. Matulis, of 1645 N. Silvery Lane, Dearborn, and the son of the senior Winifer W. Freemans, of Somerset, Kentucky.

***

FOR HER wedding day Meribeth selected a self-patterned ivory taffeta creation designed with a toe-touching, A-line skirt which drifted into a chapel train as she walked. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves and she held cascading white roses interspersed with miniature yellow roses.

Completing her bridal finery was a long, draped lace mantilla.

Former classmates of the bride were asked to serve as her attendants. Mrs. Robert Knight came from Kansas City, Missouri, to be matron of honor with Mrs. Richard Myers, traveling from Athens, New York, and Mrs. James Kortge, from Milford.

Another friend, Mrs. Samuel Viviano, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, who was soloist, sang Faure's "Love Never Faileth".

MRS. WINIFER W. FREEMAN, JR.

The bridal coterie was identically dressed in embroidered yellow voile with matching hair bows. Their bouquets were ivy-tendriled cascades of variegated funkia and philodendron centered with a large yellow fugi mum.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked his brother, John Freeman, of Somerset, Kentucky, to be best man. Others on the esquire side were two cousins of the bride, John Matulis and Gerald Matulis, of Oaklawn, Illinois.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Fellowship Hall. Some 125 guests were received by Mrs. Matulis in a Fred Perlberg costume suit of pale yellow silk and wool with a full-length companion coat and matching accessories. Her orchid corsage and that of the assistants were flown in from Hawaii.

College friends and students from Taylor Center High School, where the bride had been a Spanish teacher, assisted at the coffee service, punch bowl, and with the guest book.

Meribeth and her family resided in Belleville, at 77 Bedell street, from 1948 to 1953 when Mr. Matulis left his principal's post at Belleville High to assume the duties of Director of Secondary Education in the Taylor Schools.

The new Mrs. Freeman earned her B.A. from Kalamazoo College and her M.A. from the Madrid, Spain Center of Middlebury College, in Vermont. Her husband is an instructor in air crew survival equipment for the U.S. Navy.

The newlyweds will make their home near the N.A.S. at Patuxent River, Maryland. The bride will continue her teaching in nearby Lexington Park.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS ON NEW GRAPEFRUIT DIET

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily, long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1½ pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1½ pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perahps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the trigger) to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3.00 to

GULF CO.
P.O. Box 524
Lincoln, Nebraska 68501

Unconditional money back guarantee, if after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, and another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1½ pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $3.00 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Order now before others snap up the limited supply.

Ford's Birthday Picnic Schedule Is August 10

Friends and supporters of Congressman William D. Ford (D) 15th District are making plans for a fifth annual picnic to mark the Congressman's 42nd birthday.

The picnic is scheduled for Aug. 10, four days after Congressman Ford's birthday, which falls on Aug. 6.

The annual event will be held at Greenlawn Grove Park, on Middlebelt Road near Eureka in Romulus Township, from noon until 8 p.m.

Co-chairmen of the picnic are Harry Brunner and Frank Swapka, of Dearborn Heights, and William Siemasz, of Taylor.

Honorary chairman is John L. Canfield, mayor of Dearborn Heights and chairman of the 15th Congressional District Democratic Organization.

* * *

WORKING ON the picnic committee is a group of more than 100 persons representing each of the 15 communities in the 15th District.

Admission to the park will be $3 per family. There will be no advance sale of tickets-everyone will pay at the gate. Everything in the park will be free-beer, soft drinks, corn on the cob, kielbasa, hot dogs and popcorn.

Brunner, speaking for the committee, said:

* * *

"WE HAVE planned a real, old-fashioned, country-style family outing. In additon to food and drinks, there will be music, dancing, door prizes, entertainment, games and contests for young and old. Because of the large crowd expected, I urge anyone with portable tables and chairs to bring them along."

Brunner said that an old-fashioned steam engine will be transported to the park to provide steam for cooking the corn, hot dogs and kielbasa.

Last year, Congressman Ford's birthday picnic attracted more than 6,000 persons.

If you're driving an older model house, camping or boat trailer across the country this summer vacation season, be sure it is equipped with safety chains and the proper tow bar. Many states require safety chains for all trailers.

Association Cites Need for Marine Safety Equipment

BELLEVILLE--The call is usually three (3) strikes and your out. But old PB No. 1 rescue boat of the Wayne County Sheriff's Marine Division has survived breakdown number four (4).

Reports for the future in regards to another breakdown may mean the retirement of PB No. 1. If this happens, Belleville Lake may be without safety coverage because there is no money in the present budget for the purchase of a new boat.

The public has been fortunate that during these breakdowns that there has been no drownings. There has been an increase in law-breaking of the Marine Safety Act, however, because certain people take the advantage of missing law enforcement officers.

The Huron Valley Conservation Association (H.V.C.A.) made an appeal to the public in the March 5, issue of this newspaper for financial help to the Wayne County Sheriff's Marine Division.

THEIR NEED for special schooling, diving equipment, a new rescue boat, etc., was not included in the budget. Approximately $600 was raised for this cause.

So far their basic needs of diving equipment is still needed. This also includes a rescue boat. The financial need is still great and anyone who wishes to still contribute now or at any other time may do so, by just mailing their contribution to the Wayne County Sheriff's Marine Division.

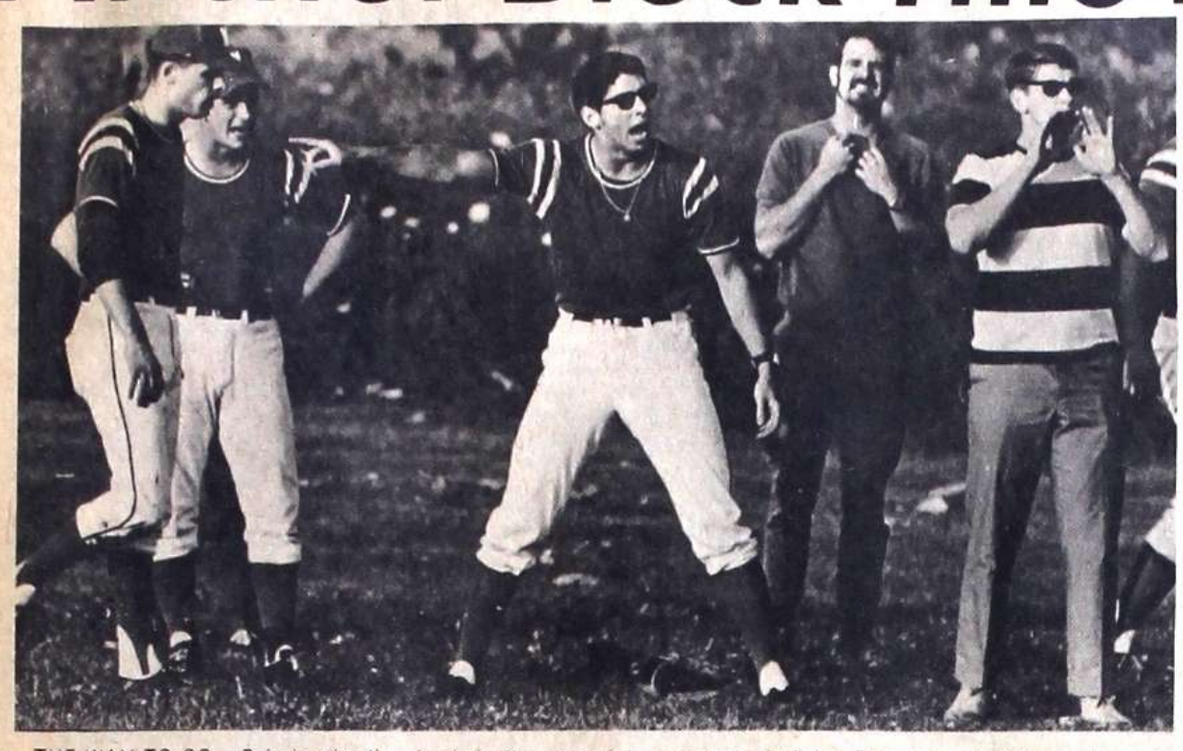
Anchor Block Title Express Speeds On



THE WAY TO GO – Pointing the direction he'd like some of the umps to go is Walter Bar catcher Jim Vinnay. The action took place against WTA Engineering who engineered a 11-6 victory over their Romulus Softball rivals.

Anchor Block came one step farther in picking up the Romulus Adult Softball Leauge championship last week with a pair of relatively easy victories to hold on to first place.

Block's polished off last place Baum's Funeral Home 25-6 in their first test of the week and then shut out Five Points 5-0. They're leading the league with a 13-3 won-lost record.

On the frontrunners' heels, however, is WTA Engineers who kept their title hopes alive with a 11-6 victory over Walter's Bar and a close 4-2 verdict over Motor City Construction.

Those two decisions last week gave the WTA aggregation a 12-4 record.

The league champ will earn the right to advance to the district playoffs to be held later this month in Ecorse while the next four finishers will mix in a two-game knock-out elimination tourney to determine a Romulus playoff champion.

Still in the running, aside from WTA and Anchor's (if they don't win the title) are Gray's Team (11-5), Walter's Bar (10-6) and Five Point Bar (8-7).

Beck's Diamond one of the top-noticed teams in the league earlier, found it difficult to field teams last week and the sixth place team forfeited to Northline Service and to Metro Radiator, dimming its hopes for a playoff berth.

Anchor Block unleashed home runs against Baum's and tucked that game away early as R. Spearman and Al Ott each had circuit clouts for the winners.

The league-leaders connected for 28 hits off of losing hurler.

K. Mientkiewicz strolled away with a perfect day at the plate with five-for-five while Baum's received two hits in three appearances from W. Watson and E. Pennington.

Baum's also forfeited to

ALL–STARS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE–Posting a 9-4 victory over their American League counterparts of the Van Buren Little League Association were the All-Star aggregation of the National Division. Members of the team included Ron English, Jeff Goins, Dan Lamake, Pat Johnson, John Marioka, Louis Kovack, Mike Auguilma, Al Wegela, Brian Miller, Paul Branscond, Glenn Holcomb, Dan Bailey, Ricky Bracken, Mike Adkins, Dan Skylen and Randy Wilkinson. The team was managed by Gary Wilkinson and he was assisted by Tracy Cook.

GORMAN REPLACES BADALOW

Wayne Picks New Coach

Wayne Gorman, former Riverview grid star who played for the University of Missouri and Eastern Michigan University, is the next head football coach at Wayne Memorial High School.

Principal George Bell made the announcement of the selection this week.

The former Missouri quarterback replaces Vaskin Badalow, who bowed out of the head coaching spot after serving one year as the master Zebra strategist to accept a coaching job at Eastern Michigan University.

"We interviewed about 13 candidates," said principal Bell, "and all of these men were very impressive. But Gorman stood out and we feel he's the man for this job."

Bell said he liked Gorman's attitude toward kids, his personality and the knowledge he has of the game. He said that the candidate was a unanimous choice.

Gorman, 29, started his coaching career at St. Patrick's of Wyandotte where he posted a 13-1-1 won-lost-tied record in the Southwest Division last year.

St. Pat's Irish were also ranked 12th in the State Class C listings.

A graduate of EMU where he earned his Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts, majoring in history, Gorman was awarded his Masters in Administration. Married to Barbara, the Gormans have three children and make their home in Allen Park.

Gorman is expected to meet with his team later this week for the first time.

Wayne, also ran in the Sauk Trail Conference for the past two years, has had more than its share of problems finding its way into the winning columns in recent years.

Badalow made a gigantic step in solving some of the problems which confronted the Zebras last year. Wayne, however, still finished in the cellar of the league—for the second consecutive year.

There is no bitterness between the school and Badalow's sudden departure, according to Principal Bell.

"Vaskin gave us his full measure and did an excellent job for us," said Bell. "There is no bad feeling whatsoever between us and our former coach. He owes it to himself to better himself whenever he is able. While he worked for us, he gave us 100 per cent, and that's about all we can ask of anyone," said Bell.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

Parole Finally Approved

After 108 consecutive editions, this columnist has learned that the "Board of Trustees" has given him a parole - one month on the outside world.

That's four weeks, 28 days and approximately 392 hours. And we won't break it down into seconds.

Freedom.

From deadlines. From managing editors. Shop foremen. From mamas and papas who want to know why their sonny's name wasn't in the paper, and from mamas and papas who want to know why their son's name was not in the paper.

How can we conform to a world without such pressures?

But, I'm sorry to say my good pal The Sports Meridian won't be able to tag along with me! It's stuck in the ANP column. No freedom for evil doers. It will be filled by notables such as Manny Lentine, Joe LaScola, Jack Malaney and Jim Bradley who will appear as guest columnists during our absence.

Bradley will also fill the sports editor slot during our brief rendezvous with freedom.

And, if you have any questions, you can contact him at 729-4410.

Those Grid Schedules, Please

Not only were we booted to freedom last week but the Sports Desk, lock-stock-and barrel, was also uprooted from its cell at the Wayne Eagle office and shoved, along with the rest of the Editorial Department, across Michigan Avenue.

We've landed at 35613 Michigan across from our old offices, and any copy intended for publication should be submitted to the new building.

Although we hated giving up our office to the ad department, one consolation of the move is that we're next to a beauty salon and, wow, you guys should see what we see from our strategic point.

Before we sign off till September, we would appreciate it if

Romulus Sets Net Tournament Dates

The Romulus Recreation Department has set the dates for its annual Tennis Tournament which will begin this Friday.

The tournament, open to residents only, will be conducted in nine categories for boys and girls ranging from nine to 15 and for adults.

There will also be doubles as well as singles' competition.

The following categories are open to the participants: Boys 13 and under (singles), boys 13 and under (doubles); boys 16 and under (singles) and boys, 16 and over (singles).

Set Football Physicals For Romulus

With September creeping upon us, prep football coaches are hurriedly gathering their grid flock together for the first practice sessions.

But before practice comes physical examinations, and Romulus head football coach, George Pratt, has set those dates for prospective players.

All prospective players are asked to report to the school on Tues., Aug. 12 at 10 a.m. for their physical exams. If for some reason the player is unable to attend, he is urged to take the exam the second date — Wed., Aug. 20th at 2 p.m.

"We have sent letters out to most of the players," said Coach Pratt, "stating the time, place and other essentials, but if we have missed anyone, we hope he would show up on either of the two dates."

Grapplers Fare Well At Jr. Olympic Tourney

Two Garden City grapplers were among the 16 who earned first place medals last week at the inaugural Junior Olympic Wrestling Tournament held at Garden City West High School.

Jeff Dork emerged from the mats with the crown in the 125 pound class in the 11 and 12-year-old category, while Davis Webbley claimed top honors in the Intermediate Group (boys 13 and 14) in the 85 pound bracket.

"It was our first crack at a tournament for these boys," said Dean Shipman, the meet supervisor. "And it was just wonderful. We had boys from all over the state turn up for the meet.

"I feel the future of Junior Olympic wrestling is bright and that this inaugural championship has pointed us in the right direction. We have already drawn up plans to make next year's meet even bigger and better."

Shipman added that one disappointment, however, was the failure of Canada to field a team. He said representatives from across the border were present and expressed their sincere desires to compete in future such meets.

The results of the meet are as follows: in the 11 and 12 age group — 65 pound class; champ Kurt Kargel of Chelsea; third place Ken Arble, of Westland.

In the 70 pound class: champ Robin Hyde of Walled Lake; second place Domitrie Michalakis, of Garden City; the 75 pound class, champ Robin Reynolds, of Haslett; second place Nick Paciocco, of Garden City; third place Pete Raub, of Garden City.

Romulus' Rose-Hill Wins Tittle

A surprising well-balanced Rose-Hill aggregation from the Wayne-Beverly area overpowered Five Points Bar last week in the best of three games series to capture the Romulus Major League championship.

Rose-Hill carded victories of 9-7 and 18-6 for the title.

Although the champs were previously silent at the plate, they displayed an awesome hitting attack to earn the championship. Rose-Hill was led into battle by Kendrick, Hearts, McCain, Morrison and Robinson all of whom collected five hits in the series.

Over in the Pony League, meanwhile, Solar Machine Pirates maintained their slim one-game lead over second place Morgan's Pirates to finish with a 9-3 won-lost record for the title.

A Successful Sidewalk Sale Shown in Pictures

STREET SCENE--Shoppers shown above are part of the huge crowds that took advantage of the many bargains offered during Belleville annual Sidewalk Sale held last Saturday. Officials termed this year's sale "best Ever."

Security Time Savings... the "decision makers" way to enjoy life!

Think of it . . . at the end of each calendar quarter Security Time Savers are faced with a delightful decision . . . what to do with their interest . . . interest that never seems to stop growing!
We developed STS for people who can stand up under the quarterly "burden" of having to decide where to spend 5% interest, compounded continuously, as it piles up in their account!
All it takes to get in, is an initial deposit of $1000. From then on, deposits of $50 or more, will do just fine.
To make sure you are aware of how your money is growing, we provide a quarterly statement of activity. And for tax purposes, as well as your own records, we forward a year end statement.
And do we play "hard to get" when you want your money? Not on your life! You can withdraw all, or part of your savings at any time during the first 10 days of each calendar quarter, or with 90 days (the minimum legal requirement) written notice.
If you haven't opened a Security Time Savings Account yet, get with it! If you have, prepare yourself . . . the next interest payment is closer than you think!
And, by the way, if the thought of having to make periodic decisions is standing between you and opening an account, relax . . . we'll be happy to add the interest to your account and let your money continue to multiply, or mail you a check.
"Enjoy life," with a Security Time Savings Account!

When it comes to banking, Security is all you need!

Both Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, Van Buren Township clerk, and Irwin W. Stech, city clerk, announced that the deadline for registering to vote in this election is Aug 15.

Hours of registration will be from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the Van Buren Township Hall, located at 46425 Tyler Road; and from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. at City Hall, located at 6 Main Street.

VOTERS IN Van Buren Township that are registered voters in the three areas to be annexed by the city and city registered voters are eligible to vote in the special election.

This is the second attempt by the city to annex parts of Van Buren.

In December, 1968, Belleville sought to merge the whole of Van Buren with the city into one governmental unit, but the voters of the township overwhelmingly defeated the proposal.

This time the city seeks some 71 acres of Van Buren Township land.

about 30 acres; and property on which the Belleville High School and St. Anthony's School stand as well as four pieces of property on the south side of Huron River, another 30 acres in all.

Mrs. Payne, who has a Special Franchise Election (Voters are asked to approve a franchise grant to the Detroit Edison) on the same day, announced that she will use paper ballots and voting booths for the annexation election and the voting machines for the Edison vote.

A vote of 200 ballots is forecast for the annexation election by township officials.

PETITION FOR the annexation election were filed in April, 1969.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's office investigated the signatures on the petitions and found them to be in good order. And the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation held the signatures to be free holders of the land to be annexed.

The election request was then approved by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and election date set.

Shakespeare's 'Twelfth Night' Is a Riot

By ALAN KROKER
ANP Amusement Critic

Shakespeare in 400 years has suffered every indignity imaginable, including burlesque, paraphrase, frying and baking and boiling, and far more incredible things have happened to him than "Your Own Thing," now at the Fisher, a comparatively happy mod rock version of "Twelfth Night."

"Your Own Thing" makes exactly the same protestations that every mod author has been making for a decade, except it doesn't insist on jabbing its points home with such impudence as to drive the a d u l t s out of the theater. The author wisely recognize who still buys the bulk of live theater tickets.

Shakespeare is adhered to in that twins are still shipwrecked, each thinking the other dead, but the locale is New York and Orson (Orsino) is no duke but the manager of a rock group, the Apocalypse, seeking a booking at Olivia's place. Viola does pose as a boy and is employed by Orson to carry messages to Olivia, with the same results as in Shakespeare, but all the low comedy of Sir Toby Belch and Malvolio is eliminated. Instead, we are offered the members of the Apocalypse, offering such witicisms as (the fourth member of the group has been drafted; they are desperately seeking a replacement), "Nobody will know we're just three if we keep shifting positions."

"Your Own Thing" does make the most effective use of protections seen in a long time, offering a basic Elizabethanish set in pure white on to which just about anything can be projected. "Laugh In" style, the projections include a host of pointed (but not always witty) commentators such as Bogart, John Wayne, Queen Victoria, Buddha and Zeus, with Bogie the hippest and Wayne the chief target.

Sheree North, as Olivia, is a little too mature for this sort of thing; she tries hard but never seems comfortable with the undistinguished rock score. Fare more lively is Priscilla Lopez as Viola. The direction and the choreography are, well, frantic.

* * *

"HOGAN'S GOAT," William Alfred's lyric study of Irish politics and morals in late 19th century Brooklyn, is part of the University of Michigan Players' summer repertory, given a most sympathetic reading by director Robert McGill.

The author calls it a tragedy and perhaps it is in the classic Greek sense, for the protagonist, Matthew Stanton, is brought down by a fatal flaw of the classic concept. He is too ambitious. Stanton, a Brooklyn ward leader, is being groomed to replace veteran Mayor Edward Quinn by the party organization. Quinn has been caught in a major financial scandal by a reform party and he will stop at nothing to prevent his ouster.

But Stanton's hands are not clean. Prior to his marriage he was kept by a wealthy woman. At last, restive, he sought an excuse to leave and finding her innocently passed out in Quinn's arms one day, he departs. The woman has drunk herself to death, while Stanton has married without telling his wife about his past. But he has more than merely this to cover up and Quinn, fighting for his political life, digs it up and strips him of his triumph.

Alfred offers triumph for nobody; the end is uniformly bitter for all. His careful mixture of gentle conversational poetry and earthy laughter paints his setting carefully and develops his ideas fully. As with most college casts, the efforts are mixed, but McGill has found strong leads, including a fully matured and realized Stanton, Michael Gross, and a forceful Quinn, Ron Beebe.

* * *

"THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOUNTAIN," is, so far, the year's outstanding family picture, playing down to nobody and coming across to all ages. It concerns a young boy, a naturalist experienced far beyond his years, who decides to emulate Thoreau and live alone in the wilderness for a year. His family hasn't been exactly sympathetic to his interest so he runs away to the Laurentian Mountains of Quebec, accompanied only by his pet racoon.

If there is a flaw here, it is that things are too easy for the boy; he fails at almost nothing. He finds a suitable place for his algae experiments, builds a comfortable home in a dead tree, catches and cooks his own food, makes clothing from animal skins and catches a falcon and trains it to catch food for him. Everything he tries is successful. The only fly in the ointment is occasional loneliness; he welcomes a visit from a drifting folk singer, Theodore Bikel. Things are too easy to be fully believable, but this is a most minor flaw in a completely worthwhile film.

* * *

"SINFUL DAVEY," on the heels of "Tom Jones" and its ilk is another period frolic, entertaining and lusty, although hardly memorable. John Houston directs this romp about a Scotch youth determined to emulate his alleged father, a bandit, who snarls wealthy Robert Morley in a web of deception leading to a plot to snaffle the jewelry of all Morley's guests at a fancy ball. It's one caper among many, he robs a stage and engenders a prison break with equal ease and total unconcern.

Still, it's rather difficult to swallow Pamela Franklin as a highly moral lass who is out to snare him and to save him from himself, who follows Davey about undoing his villainies and depriving him of his gains. Such virtue, it is thought, went out with Little Nell. By and large, "Sinful Davey" is a light-hearted effort, fine summer fare.

Art Exhibit On Display In Dearborn

A one-man exhibition of paintings by Phillip Wilburn will be on display in the University of Michigan, Dearborn Campus Library beginning Aug. 7.

The display, on loan from the Donald Morris Gallery of Detroit, was arranged by Mrs. Deanna Sperka, UM-D art consultant. It will be open to the public free of charge. Library hours are 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

Describing the artist's work, George Francoeur wrote in the summer 1966 ART NEWS that, "Phillip Wilburn (has) investigated the hidden sources of life in pristine if erotic images. The color, generally clear pastel, is serene, yet hot to explosive; his craftsmanship arduous; his form is distinct."

Titles of the works on display are: "Family Portrait" (1966), "Taos painting for people who don't believe in war as an American past-time" (1966), "Suburban Landscape" (1967), "Red Island" (1967), "On having Given Birth to a Father, a Mother, a Wife, Two Children and Myself" (1967), "A Bedtime Story" (1967), "Painted Sculpture Painting" (1967), "Desert Still Life" (1967), "Someday Even the Sea Must Die" (1967).

Theater Confab Opens Soon at Wayne State

The thirty-third annual convention of the American Educational Theatre Association will officially open with an all-association general session and luncheon on Monday, Aug. 25, at the Statler Hilton Hotel in downtown Detroit. Eric Bentley, internationally known theatre critic and writer, will give the "Challenge Address" to the association at the luncheon, schedule for 12 noon.

Prior to this, on Sunday, Aug. 24, the A.E.T.A.'s constituent divisions, the American Community Theatre Associations, the Children's Theatre Conference, and the Secondary School Theatre Conference, will meet for a number of sessions before the full convention gets under way.

A total of over 100 sessions, considering various aspects of the theme, "Theatre for Educational Values," will be held over a four-day period through Aug. 27. Seven sessions are devoted to the theatre's relevance in contemporary society and the problems of black and inner-city theatre artists. A "Congress on Theatre Education" of eight panels, including authorities from other disciplines and theatre educators, will relate developments in other fields to the theatre. Other prime topics include theatre production as a basis for research, current problems in dramatic theory and criticism, and environmental theatre.

Individual sessions on the various arts and crafts in the theatre include some on theatre technology, dance theatre, puppetry, actor training, and opera production. The first American College Theatre Festival, which included Wayne State's production of "A Flea in Her Ear," will be reviewed as an instrument for evaluation and improvement of college theatre standards.

A number of nationally known figures will appear on the various panels. Herbert Blau, Dean of Theatre at California Institute of the Arts and former co-director of the Lincoln Center Repertory Company and the San Francisco Actors Workshop, is on the panel considering "Relevance of Theatre in Contemporary Society." Frank Silvera, well-known professional actor, will participate in a session on "Black Theatre and the Community." A session on "Environmental Theatre" is headed by Theodore Hoffman of New York University, noted writer and educator.

Jean Erdman, choreographer, and Paul Draper, dancer, will demonstrate and discuss dance theatre. George Latshaw of the George Latshaw Puppets, Cleveland, joins the Detroit Art Institute's Audley Grossman in a panel on puppetry.

Four European authorities on actor training will explain and demonstrate their methods—Rene Hainaux, director of Theatre dans la Monde in Brussels, Fritz Kracht, professional teacher of acting in Munich, John Fernald of Oakland University, former director of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, and Iris MacGregor, Examining Board of Drama Teachers in England.

Michigan is represented on the "Community Theatre and the Black Community" panel by John Ashby of the Ashby Detroit Players, Amaleta Bridges of the Brewster Recreation Center in Detroit, David Rambeau of Detroit's Concept East, James Taylor of the Harambee Players in Muskegon, and Reuben Silver, director of the Karamu Theatre in Cleveland and a former Detroiter and graduate of Wayne State University.

The regular convention program includes a number of performances, including "Chamber Music" by Arthur Kopit, presented by the winner of the American Community Theatre Association's first national festival, the Entre Actors Guild of Worcester, Massachusetts. This performance will represent the United States next month in the Fourth World Amateur Theatre Festival in Monaco.

Other performances include Chekhov's "The Boor" and Pinter's "The Room" by the students ot the Academy of Dramatic Art, Rochester, and a performance by a Michigan inner-city theatre, the Harambee Players of Muskegon.

Other events scheduled during the convention include the University of Michigan's "The Duchess of Malfi" in Arbor, the University of Detroit's musicals "Once Upon a Mattress" and "Carnival," and Wayne State's national festival production of "A Flea in Her Ear," as well as "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Aladdin."

Two special exhibits are being sponsored by the Detroit Institute of Arts during the conference. "Puppets in the Park" will be displayed in Grand Circus Park, and an exhibit of "Russian Stage and Costume Design" will be on view at the Institute, co-sponsored by the International Exhibitions Foundation of Washington, D.C.

Highlights of the convention social calendar are the S.S.T.C. tenth anniversary reception on Tuesday, August 26, at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and the A.E.T.A. Awards luncheon on Tuesday.

Program chairman for the Convention is Burnet M. Hobgood of Southern Methodist University, first vice president of A.E.T.A. Local arrangements chairman is Leonard Leone of Wayne State University. For the Children's Theare Conference, Ann Elgood of the Mott Adult Educational Program in Flint is program chairman and Shirley Harbin of the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation is local arrangement chairman.

State Fair Offers Contests for Everyone

Bald-headed men and pie-eating kids, horseshoe pitchers and beautiful girls. There are contests for all of them-- and for that matter, contests for almost anyone--at the 120th Michigan State Fair, which runs from Aug. 22 through Sept. 1.

"You don't have to own a prize steer or be a champion horseman to compete at the fair," E.J. (Jeff) Keirns, the State Fair's general manager noted. "We have competition for all."

The livestock and community arts deadlines have passed, but there is still plenty of time for other entries. In many cases, all the contestants has to do is show up at the right time.

For the kids, contests will run from Monday through Friday, Aug. 25-29. They'll include ponytail, football throw, blueberry pie-eating, balloon race, look-alike twins, most freckles, and egg and spoon race. Registration is 9 a.m. the day of the contest.

And there'll be an essay contest for children on Children's Day, Tuesday, Aug. 26, with $50 U.S. Savings Bonds for first place prizes for six age groups and other prizes. They'll tell what they learned at the State Fair on blanks to be given out on Children's Day.

For those who can't throw a baton but can pitch ringers, the daily horsehsow pitching contests are attractive. There will be daily winners plus a championship trophy for the top pitcher on the final day of the fair.

Information on the many contests can be had from the Michigan State Fair, Detroit 48203, or by calling the fair offices in Detroit, at 368-1000.

NOMADS ON THE GO--This group of Nomads prepares to board the club's DC-7 at nearby Metro Airport for far away places that are no longer just a dream for these passengers. The membership has logged over 23-million passenger miles in the past four years. The Nomads will mark their fifth birthday this week.

Nomads Mark 5th Birthday With Another Exotic Trip

THE FLYING NOMADS--The books of man define the word "nomad" as--"a person or group of people who are constant travelers to new exciting places...meeting new people and seeing new things."

For most people today, this type of life is just a dream. They are too busy with the responsibilities of life, running a business, raising a family, of fulfilling a profession.

Buf today, at nearby Metro Airport, for a group of flying nomads it is no longer a dream. The modern-day nomads have entered their fifth year of flying to many corners of the world without shirking responsibilities or professional problems.

It was easy for these flying buffs to become world travelers. Main ingredient was to have a love for flying and a yen to travel. Comprised of almost 1000 members, the Nomads are a non-profit, private travel club. Their flying magic carpet is a 300-mile-per-hour, four-engine DC-7B Douglas airliner and since 1965 has logged an enviable flight record.

As they start the fifth year in operation, President Michael C. Myal announced that their flying clubhouse has posted over 264,000 aircraft miles. This is eqivalent to more than ten times around the world at the Equator. They have completed 85 trips to such exotic ports as Honolulu, San Juan, Port of Spain, Paramaribo, Lima, Rio de Janeiro, Curacao, San Andres, San Salvador, Fairbanks and Whitehorse, Alaska. Near future trips now in planning include, New York, Barbados, Ile de Margarita, Caracas, Freeport, Jamaica and Mallorca.

The club was founded on Aug. 6, 1965, by veteran flyer Joseph Benich of Warren, together with Detroit Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis Jr. The membership today can boast of an accumulation of over 23-million passenger miles.

The roster of the Nomads includes age groups from all walks of life, from the executive and professional levels to single and family people and retirees.

The flying junkets to far away places have given the opportunity for these members to enjoy the congenial companionship of fellow neighbors while exploring and seeing the many wonders and sights that a constant traveler enjoys seeing and photographing.

Nomads, Inc., was formed and still operates as a non-profit corporation by a group of Detroit area businessmen who share a common interest in aviation. The directors serve without pay and have many years of experience in the operation of heavy transport aircraft.

The purchase of the DC-7 airliner was financed by the sale of memberships. Reasonable monthly dues are charged to defray fixed and administrative expenses. The actual operating cost of each trip is borne by the members, and comes out to less than half the cost of the lowest airline fare and even less than interstate bus.

Chairman of the board, and all officers and directors are all old hands in the field of aviation. Professional airline personnel fly, service and maintain the huge DC-7 under the personal supervision of former Air Force Colonel George L. Vovrick, the club's pilot and director of operations.

A good majority of the flying Nomads reside in Western Wayne. The club is operated like an actual business, with offices located at 9293 Middle Belt Rd., Romulus, adjacent to Metro Airport.

Thus, for these flying Nomads, daydreaming about fabulous vacations at far away places is a thing of the past. They have only to select their trips, head for Metro Airport...and fly away.

Apollo Prepares For Moon Landing

Even as the Apollo 11 crew completed lunar operations and started the return trip to earth, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was busily preparing Apollo 12 for its late autumn or early winter moon landing.

Apollo 12's Command and Service Module (including the Lunar lander) has been hoisted and attached to the top of the towering Saturn V launch vehicle.

NASA reports that assembly is proceeding smoothly in VAB (vehicle assembly building). No definite launch date has been set pending studies of Apollo 11.

Apollo 12 will be commanded by Astronaut Charles Conrad. Lunar Module Pilot will be Richard Gordon Jr. Command Module Pilot Alan Bean will remain in orbit while Conrad and Gordon continue exploration of the lunar surface.

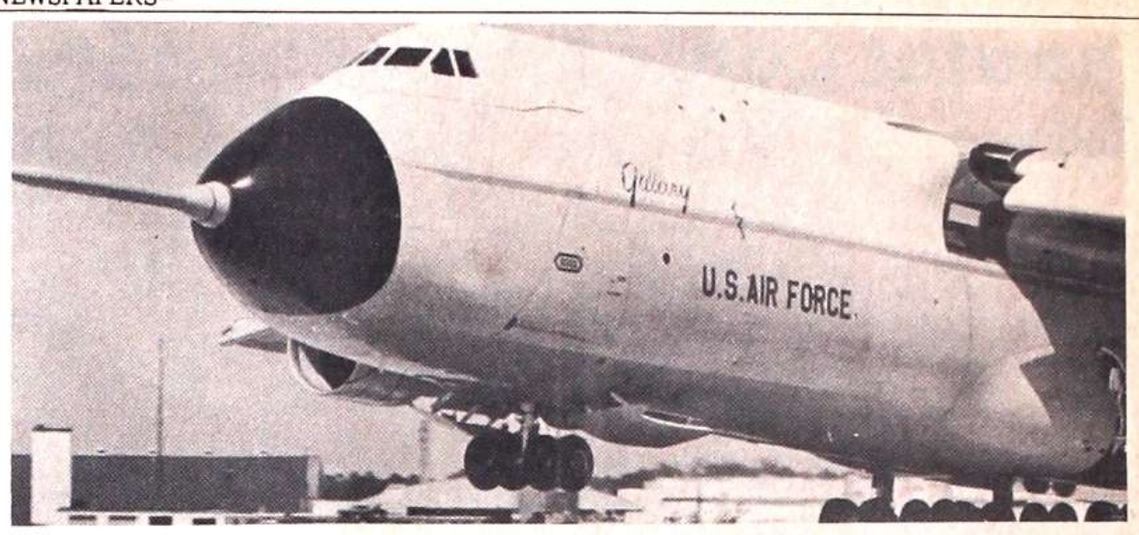
United Speeds Up Jaunt to Honolulu

Detroit area travelers will be closer than ever to Honolulu beginning Aug. 1, when United Air Lines inaugurates nonstop service from Chicago to Honolulu.

United's Flight 359 from Detroit Metropolitan Airport departs at 10:20 a.m. making a convenient Chicago connection to the new nonstop jet flight.

The airline said nonstop service from ten other cities --- including Detroit --- for which it has received authority in the recently decided Trans-Pacific Route Investigation, will be announced at a later date.

Extending its 22-year identification with air service to Hawaii, United will now bring the Islands more than an hour closer to the Midwest.



ON THE WAY—The C-5 Galaxy, Lockheed's giant 732,000 pound Air Force cargo-troup carrier, now undergoing initial flight tests, recently landed in the incredibly short distance of 1,500 feet, from touchdown to stop. C-5, designed to operate in and out of unimproved runways, is expected to revolutionize military logistics. Lockheed said the first four C-5's now flying in the test program have "more than satisfactorily exceeded Air Force requirements in every category." Lockheed officials said also that Galaxy Number 5 is in the "big barn" (final assembly area) and will soon join the first four in a program which will "wring out" eight of the huge jets

'Riddled' Pilot In Fast Company

A C-130 Hercules combat pilot, Lt. Colonel D. D. Cole, has been named winner of the 1968 MacKay trophy, the Air Force's oldest award to flying officers presented for "most meritorious flight of the year."

Colonel Cole, in winning the trophy, joins a distinguished list of former recipients including Hap Arnold, Jimmy Doolittle, and Eddie Rickenbacker.

Col. Cole was selected for his demonstration of superior airmanship while aircraft commander of a "Hercules" at the besieged Viet Namese Kham Duc airfield during a heavy mortar attack on May 12, 1968.

Despite a shot-off right rear tire, five direct hits from small arms fire on the left wing fuel tanks and three mortar shots which impacted on the pilot's side, near the flight deck, Col. Cole was able to fly the C-130 to Cam Ranh Bay Air Base and land without injuries to passengers or crew.

The C-130, built at Lockheed-Georgia, in Marietta, received a total of 104 hits from hostile fire prior to its safe landing.

Dover Wing Sets Record

Lockheed C-141 StarLifters made 100 consecutive ontime departures from Dover AFB during the month of June, the Office of Information reported.

"This is an accomplishment that will not easily be matched by any other Wing," said Brig. Gen. Fred V. Vetter, commander of the 436th Wing, Military Airlift Command. "This represents a new standard in operational performance within MAC. This achievement was attained in strictest compliance with MAC on-time launch criteria, high maintenance standards, and good safety practices."

During June, 98.4 percent of all C-141 departures had taken off from Dover on time, bettering the Military Airlift Command criteria for on-time departures by 7.4 percent.

Reds Build New Jet

Aeroflot, the Russian state airline, is currently testing a 134-passenger tri-jet, the Tupolev TU-154.

The new jet, expected to enter Aeroflot service in 1971, is powered by three Kuznetsov NK-8-2 turbofan engines rated at 20,900 thrust pounds each.

The Russian tri-jet is designed to cruise at 600 mph up to 2,300 miles.

The TU-154's are expected to replace Tupolev TU-104's, Ilyushin IL-18 prop-jets, and Antonov AN-10's on the airline's far-flung domestic and international routes.

Save now on one of next year's most expensive used cars.

When you buy a '69 Chevrolet, Chevelle, Camaro or Nova it's nice to know that there are a lot of people (including us) waiting to take it off your hands at a good price when you're ready to sell.
There's nothing mysterious about why Chevrolet products bring more at resale time. There's more built-in value to begin with.

So start with this great Chevrolet value, then add our almost irresistible end of year trade and you've got an investment that's just bound to deliver a good return whenever you're ready to come back into the car market. It's as enjoyable a way to save money as you're going to find.
